TWO A.M. IS SACRED HOUR Sunday morning when clocks are changed to conform to movements of sun. This trio, when asked to point way of change held for varying directions. Krissy Koch, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Koch, held that big hand went that-a-way; Marilyn North, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. North, Jr., maintained big hand went this-a-way; sniggering Carrie Murtagh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Murtagh, left, knew the clock wasn't going either way as requiring electricity to run it couldn't go anywhere until she put in the plug. Anyway, clocks go back an hour at 2 a.m., Sunday. (Staff photo by Jake Jacob)

$1.2 million pool due

'Life on the ocean wave,' in making at Buccaneer

by JAKE JACOB
Buccaneer State Park, Waveland, may be the home of a $1.2 million wave pool in a little better than a year, if plans revealed yesterday by State Parks Commission Director T.P. Edwards, are approved by the State Building Commission.
Edwards was accompanied to the announcement made yesterday in Waveland City Hall, by: John King, deputy director; Frank Alley, director of planning, both Mississippi Park Commission; Larry Trotter, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation; and Park Superintendent Greg Smith.
Others in attendance included: Alton A. Keller, president, Sam Perniciaro, Beat 4, John D. Rutherford, Jr., clerk, all Hancock County Board of Supervisors; Mayor John Longo, Jr., City of Waveland; and Councilman Fred Wagner, Bay St. Louis (also project architect).
The wave pool is to be 185 feet long, and will run from 75 feet wide at the narrowest point, swelling to a zero depth width of 153 feet.
Water at the deepest point will be eight feet, permitting the pool to be used by persons from all ages.
To be located in that area of the park immediately to the east of the first picnic pavilion after entering the main, west gate, the pool will accommodate 600 and operate from dawn to dark.

Edwards said that although the wave pools now in operation were functioning at a profit, the main objective is to provide the people of the state with wholesome, clean recreation.
Funding for the project will come half from the state government, through tax money, and half from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR).
Previously proposed in 1972, when Buccaneer was in its infancy, rising construction costs between the time of bid advertising and commencement took the project beyond the range of funds then available. At that time no BOR funds were involved.
Presently approved under House Bill 660, funds for the project are now earmarked for calendar year '77, a fact leading park authorities to hold out hope that bids for construction may be let by the first of 1978.
Fund use must be yet approved by both the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation's Atlanta office, and the State Building Commission.
Edwards and King both indicated that having once received the state commission's approval they doubted if the project would come under restraint at this time.
BOR representative Trotter said the indications received from Atlanta had all been favorable and likewise doubted any serious opposition to the scheme.
All were highly enthusiastic about the plan with Edwards saying that when the pool is in operation if there are 1000 people in the park, 500 of them will be in the pool.
Current admission price estimates are $2.50 per adult and $1.50 for children to the pool complex.

Stunt pilots to elevate noses at D'head air (land, sea) show

By EDGAR PEREZ
Why are a Bay St. Louis manufacturer, a Gulfport publisher, a Mobile, Ala., student and a Gulfport restaurateur liable to be found together on a given weekend?
On a deep sea fishing trip, maybe? Not even close.
In a foursome on the Diamondhead links? Not likely.
Would you believe they are just four of ten daredevil precision pilots, each commanding his own custom aircraft, who will perform Saturday and Sunday afternoons at the Diamondhead Land, Sea and Air Show?
In addition, the group is composed also of a Delta Airlines pilot, a NASA-NSTL pilot, the operator of the Laurel Airport, and a New Orleans construction company executive.

In addition, the group is composed also of a Delta Airlines pilot, a NASA-NSTL pilot, the operator of the Laurel Airport, and a New Orleans construction company executive.

"We don't like to think of ourselves as stunt pilots," said Bill Mabry, owner of an overhead door manufacturing facility at Stennis Industrial Park.
"We like to think of what we do as precision flying," Mabry said, adding, "Stunt pilots get killed."
Mabry's operation, The McKee Door Co., is the first tenant to sign on at the new industrial park underway at Stennis International Airport.
Mabry, who pilots a Pitts Special, said the performances staged by him and his fellow pilot-hobbiests are best classified as "aerobatics."

Msgr. Gregory Johnson to leave for St. Michael's

This weekend
by JAKE JACOB
Named a Domestic Prelate by Pope Paul VI in December, 1976, Right Reverend Monsignor Gregory Johnson, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Bay St. Louis, since July 1, 1969, is leaving this week, to assume the duties of pastor of St. Michael's Parish, Biloxi.

Msgr. Johnson came to the diocese originally in 1947 to do missionary work.
This week he said, "There was an indication that I had talent for education and so my efforts were directed toward that field."
Immediately following the 1947 Hurricane I was assigned to Our Lady of Victories Church, Pascagoula, where I taught school and served as assistant pastor."
He said that this service lasted until Oct. 1952, at which time he was transferred to the Sacred Heart Parish, Hattiesburg, with a primary task of establishing a viable Newman Club on campus at University of Southern Mississippi.

During this period he taught at the Sacred Heart High School and completed his graduate work, being the first priest to be graduated from USM with a master's degree in supervisory education.
In 1953, Msgr. Johnson pioneered the establishment of an inter-parochial high school in Jackson, becoming the first priest-principal of St. Joseph's Interparochial High School in Jackson.
"In 1956 I was appointed pastor of St. Ann's Parish, Lizauna, with missions in Wiggins and Dedeaux."
"During this period I also taught at St. John's High School in Gulfport, formed a Newman Club in Perkinston Junior College, lectured at Pine Hills Seminary, and served the spiritual

Bay city budget adopted, council asks form change

Building permits issued in Mississippi's three coastal counties during September reflect a 20.6 percent increase in dollar value of the licensed construction compared to the same month last year.
But at the same time, the numbers of permits issued amount to a 3.6 decline from the number issued in September, 1976.
Some $8.1 million in permits were issued in September, 1977, in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties, compared to a little more than $5.3 million in September, 1976.
Categorical breakdown of permits issued in the three counties this year show 118 residential permits with work valued at $3,106,481 compared to 135 at $2,767,666 in September, 1976.
Commercial: 26 valued at $1,853,667 compared to 10 valued at $552,200 in September, 1976.
Public and other: 52 valued at $914,283 compared to 51 valued at $1,098,956 in September, 1976.

The City of Bay St. Louis last week approved a general fund budget of some $728,293.87, a utilities system budget of $715,357, and a revenue sharing budget of $327,021.743, the latter assessed against "anticipated revenues."
The budget, although not questioned as to purport, content, or correctness by council, drew comment in as much as its form of presentation failed to clearly match up receipts and expenditures without considerable adding machine work.
Council instructed Mayor Larry Bennett to obtain the correct forms from Jackson and have future budgets conform to their requirements.

The Revenue Sharing program expenditures were arrived at following a public meeting at which representatives of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society appeared again pleading for

Boy Scouts of America

BY BILL PRAT
Scout Executive
Cypress District-N.O. Area
The scouting movement has come a long way from the first scout troop in 1910 to a scout troop today. Throughout this time period the goals of the Boy Scouts of America have remained the same: character development, citizenship, and physical and mental fitness. These goals are the same for all Scouting programs.

The first program a boy joins in scouting is called Cub Scouting.
A boy is eligible for cub scouting when he is eight years old or has completed the second grade. During his cub scouting years he begins to learn leadership, citizenship, and he "tries to do his best."
This is accomplished in den meetings and at home with his family. For the cub scout, all of this is happening while he is having fun, earning badges to wear on his uniform, and while making different crafts.
The cub scout is also beginning new adventures; he is going on field trips and to day camps during the summer.
Since cub scout packs are encouraged to stay active twelve months a year, a boy eight, nine, or ten years old has many activities in which to have fun.
A boy has one of his greatest thrills of his life when he joins a scout troop.
At this time he works with boys and

Amtrack Gulfwind denial adds steam to city wants

By EDGAR PEREZ
Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett's long-range program of developing the city into a tourist mecca through establishment of New Orleans-Ocean Springs commuter rail service gained momentum this week when he attended a special Gulf Coast conference on railroad improvement.

The mayor has outlined plans for development of the old L&N depot here as a tourist center with the depot's surrounding grounds to become the city's first park.

DRINKING DRIVERS BEWARE—Officer Albert D. Blehl III, right, of the Bay St. Louis police department demonstrates his newly-acquired skills in operation of the intoximeter for Mrs. Ann Cuevas of Sheriff Sylvan Ladner's office. Blehl, now licensed to perform chemical analyses of breath specimens pursuant to the Mississippi implied consent act, is the first Bay St. Louis policeman to complete the State Highway Patrol's five-day intoximeter school in Jackson. Bennett also envisions the development of more tourist-related businesses along Beach Boulevard between the L&N tracks and State Street.

There is presently a need for any interesting pictures - either old or recent - of the school or former students.
These pictures will be used in preparing a history of the school.

Boy Scouts...

men and experiences new adventures. The scout goes camping on weekends and has an opportunity to go to summer camp for one week. He may experience new adventures of hiking in the mountains, canoeing in the wilderness, or boating and scuba diving. Men throughout all areas of the county are working with scouts to see he learns the correct way of accomplishing these fun-filled adventures. All of these activities can begin for a boy when he is eleven years old.

While the scout is having these adventures he is working on advancement from his scout badge to the highest award he can earn, the Eagle Award. The scout who earns his Eagle Award is special, as only one out of every 100 scouts accomplish this goal.

Scouting is not just for boys. Exploring is for young adults, both male and female, ages fifteen through twenty one. In Exploring, a young adult has experiences in many different areas. These areas range from community, career, and social, to outdoor activities. The Explorers plan and carry out their own activities with the guidance of their Post Advisor.

There are three types of Exploring: 1) Career interest where the Explorer post specializes in one field. Examples of this are: firemanship, law enforcement, finance, and almost any other field - such as modeling and medicine.

A second type of Explorer post is general interest, giving young adults a chance to explore many new fields.

The third type of Exploring is Sea Exploring. In this type, young adults learn about all aspects of boat handling. Explorers have the option of designing their own uniforms. Explorers enjoy new activities and adventures while helping to develop their citizenship, character, and fitness.

All three types of scouting units are operated under charters granted to local institutions by the Boy Scouts of America. These institutions own their units (packs, troops, and posts) and select adults to provide the scouting program to the youth of the community.

The New Orleans Area Council, through Cypress District of which Hancock County is part, helps to provide service to these institutions through the Council Executive Board and the District Committee. Hancock County has three volunteers serving on the Council Executive Board: Norton Haas, John Rutherford, Jr., and Ken Sauer. Sauer also serves as District Chairman of Cypress District and is responsible for seeing the Scouting program is carried out in Cypress District.

The New Orleans Area Council has two camps, both are in Cypress District and Scouts from all of south Louisiana and Hancock County come here to camp. Camp Salmen is located in St. Tammany Parish while Salmen Scout Reservation is located north of Kiln.

The Reservation is 1500 acres of rolling piney hills. One scout from south Louisiana on his first visit to Salmen Scout Reservation asked if he was in the Smoky Mountains because of the beautiful hills.

The New Orleans Area Council also provides a full time professional scoutmaster to work and live in Cypress District so that the youth of the community may receive the best program available. This is done by working with institutions and the volunteer adults of the community.

Because of the support of the United Way of Hancock county, scouting has come a long way from the first scout troop in 1910 to a troop for the local youth to enjoy scouting today.

Your support will help keep the youth of Hancock County learning citizenship, fitness, and developing their character in the largest youth movement in the country, Scouting - USA.

The Scouting Committee of Hancock County endorses and strongly supports the United Way and reminds all residents of the County that a gift to the United Way is of great help to the Scout program of Hancock County.

Wave pool...

The complex includes complete changing and rest room facilities, concession area, and sun deck. "The operation will be self-contained," Edwards said.

He described Buccaneer as a "high use" park adding his hopes to add an additional 100 camping pads within the near future.

An additional study now being made for Buccaneer concerns the advisability of letting camper overflow settle outside of the regulated camper area over busy weekends.

"The problem is that when these people occupy spaces away from the camping area on a Friday evening, they may have to be towed out if it rains over the weekend," Edwards indicated in a note of caution.

Asked as to the possibility of the park system building a marina at Buccaneer, Edwards said that as the land beyond the seawall was the property of the county, it would be the responsibility of the supervisors to build the facility although he would be glad to open discussion concerning the feasibility of having his department undertake its operation.

Mayor Longo said the impact of Buccaneer State Park had been a considerable factor in his city growing from 210th position in sales tax rebates for the state to 74th position.

"The sales tax rebate picture can be easily used as a yardstick to determine growth rate."

"Buccaneer Park has contributed in great measure to the economic growth of the whole city with every business establishment receiving their share of tourist dollars as people come here to enjoy the facility.

"This wave pool as a tourist attraction is certainly going to help keep the momentum going to where each shop owner and business establishment is going to share in the growth and profits."

"There are no city funds involved in either the park, its development, or the proposed new $1.2 million wave pool. "This is strictly a state enterprise, with funding coming half from it and half from BOR."

Trotter of BOR, told Longo that the application for funding was leaving Jackson on Friday and would be in Atlanta next week.

"All indications received to date are favorable," he repeated.

agent to board

E.J. Merengo, president and owner of Coastal Insurance Co., Inc., with offices on US-90, Bay St. Louis, has been appointed to serve a two-year term on the Agency Advisory Council of Commercial Union Assurance Companies, Boston, Mass.

Consisting of only five agents, drawn from across the United States, from those areas and independent agencies serving the Commercial Union group, the council sits to consider various insurance problems, and make recommendations to the concerned agents.

Too, it establishes and maintains an instant communications network with the agents in the field, aiding in their dealings with the Commercial Union group on a more direct basis.

Notice of the appointment was made this week in an announcement containing details of Merengo's first council meeting.

Local GOP women win at Atlanta

The Hancock County Republican Women's Club won the Diamond Award at the National Convention of Republican Women in Atlanta, Georgia last week. This is the top award given for club achievement.

Tripling its membership in less than a year also made it possible for Mississippi to win the silver Revere bowl, for the State with the largest increase in membership.

Over 2000 women attended the convention with delegates from as far away as Hawaii, Alaska, and the Virgin Islands.

There were top Republican speakers at all sessions, climaxed by Gov. Reagan. Nearly 3000 attended the luncheon at which he was principal speaker.

Those attending from the Hancock County club were: Mrs. J. Harrison Life, Mrs. Pere Cabibi, Mrs. H. M. Wise, Mrs. Carl Gustafson and Mrs. John McPhail.

Annual UNICEF collections will again be made in the Bay-Waveland areas by the youth of Christ Episcopal Church, First Baptist Church and Main Street United Methodist Church. These collections will take place Halloween night.

A meeting held by Rev. Nathan Barber, Ellis Cuevas, and Linda McCulloch, was held recently naming Socrates Ladner and Melinda Smith of Bay St. Louis as this year's co-chairmen.

Any youth interested in helping with this year's collection are asked to gather at Virginia Hall, Christ Episcopal Church on Monday Oct. 31 at 6 p.m. At this time areas will be mapped out. Refreshments will be served upon the return of the collectors.

Last year a total of $246.63 was collected on Halloween.

The national chairman of UNICEF this year is TV star David Hartman. Collections are made all over the United States for UNICEF.

The United Nations Children's Fund works for the hundreds of millions of children living in the developing countries. These children suffer the effects of extreme poverty; hunger, disease; lack of education, limited hope for the future. Children have no control over the place of their birth and do not select the religion, government, or culture of the communities in which they live. Any society may need help in caring for its children, be it Christian or Hindu, Arab or Israeli, communist or capitalist, revolutionary or conservative. UNICEF is helping over 100 countries - in Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Middle East - provide the basic health, nutrition, and education services that every child needs.

Collectors for UNICEF will have identification showing that they are the official collectors with boxes from UNICEF for this canvas.

A reputation we need

The City of Waveland is fast acquiring a reputation needed in Bay St. Louis.

The reputation we are talking about is "getting tough on shoplifters."

It takes a combination of things to acquire this reputation.

The most important thing is a judge that is not soft, one who takes full advantage of the law.

The next is a city investigator that helps victims of shoplifting prepare a case.

Finally it takes merchants that are willing to take time to register complaints and appear in court to testify.

Something which both Bay St. Louis and Waveland need is a city prosecutor, a fact we have commented on in a previous editorial.

We want to compliment the Waveland City Judge for not being soft on Shoplifters.

We know we sound like a broken record, but we all support shoplifters and we are getting tired of paying for someone else to steal.

We would like to see all Judges get tough on shoplifters.

If you know a judge who is soft on shoplifters, let him know how you feel about paying for someone to steal.

Especially on a clear morning the image was and is reflected

Hancock County, during this period of growth, will experience many, new and varied changes.

Some of these changes, like those that will be demanded by industry are more easily understood, though their cost may further stretch the county's already strained resources.

The second group, with changes more demanding of our tolerance and understanding, are those brought about by the influx of ideology that is considered by many to be alien to our way of life.

A traveler to Kandy, the old capital of Ceylon, is struck with the clear air, mountain beauty, and buildings - though many hundreds of years old, in complete accord with their setting. Too, the city is built around a lake which offers crystal reflection, especially in the still of early morning.

Also in Kandy, there wander the priests of Buddha and, at least during the last world conflict, the representatives of Christendom.

The latter group was not raised to any level of local acceptance beyond that of "also rans" but conversely, they were not stoned in the streets, harassed, or treated in any manner other than as strangers to that city.

Left alone, doing their duties or tasks for which they came, the aliens responded by keeping unto themselves, working to understand the ways of those around them, and trying to peacefully live in a strange environment.

Those whose principal occupations kept them obvious to the local inhabitants, through the necessity of wearing uniform, or those who, though following alleged non-combatant pursuits, sported civilian attire, did not in either case correlate to the local dress of sari or cotton wrap-around and shirt.

Nor did the representatives of Christendom deem it explicative not to consult their texts or hymnals when such was the order of the day, or when suitable occasion was to hand.

To understand the requirements of inner-peace in man, the necessity to acknowledge "...somebody greater than us all..." is done in many ways.

The feeling that this way, or that way, or our way, or their way, is right, or wrong, has led to and maintains the feeling of religious wars almost since the beginning of time.

Hancock County is now host, willingly or unwillingly, to a sect known as The International Society for Krishna Consciousness, Inc.

This group, on individual choice, has chosen to adopt a variation of a mid-Eastern religion, and a rigorous, Spartan life, far beyond the desire of the average person.

None of its members, as far as can be determined, is native to these parts, but judging from direct conversation more can be expected to join those in residence at their commune, both on a regular and periodic basis.

The understanding of why a person would choose to join such a sect, or the benefits of this group to the community

Amtrak Gulfwind...

Mayor also hopes to develop more public-use facilities along Bay St. Louis' beach front.

Currently underway on the beach is the creation of a sloping rise from the beach to the Boulevard between the public pier and McDonald Lane.

The project is being undertaken with fill being removed from the Main Street Improvement project, the Mayor reported.

Bennett this week joined a group of Harrison County officials who are taking preliminary steps toward the improvement and/or relocation of rail lines which run through Harrison County.

The Monday meeting in Gulfport was the second of a new organization of officials known as the "Railroad Relocation And-Or Improvement Project." The group's first meeting was held in Gulfport on Oct. 12.

Gulfport City Attorney Joseph R. Meadows called for "legislation...to create a Railroad Relocation Authority or similar legal entity, with representatives from the coastal municipalities and the county."

"It would be similar to the Airport Authority recently created," Meadows said in a report to the group on the Second National Urban Railroad Relocation Conference which he attended in early October in Brownsville, Tex.

"The 1978 Legislative Session is at hand," Meadows said in urging the group into action.

"This project will be one of enormous undertaking but when compared with projects presently underway in other sections of the country...it does not look quite so complicated and formidable," the city attorney continued.

Meadows said other cities are confronted with relocation and improvement projects complicated by numerous rail lines passing through the city and the need to convince two or more railroad companies to use a single line.

"Our project would deal with two railroads (Illinois Central and Louisville & Nashville) with relocation primarily affecting only one of them, the L&N Railroad," Meadows said.

In a report on the group's first meeting, Gulfport Commissioner R. C. Randall said he is "...particularly pleased by the unanimous support given the basic concept of relocating and/or improving the L&N and IC Railroads."

"It was readily apparent that all present recognized this need due to the many hazards that presently exist-the difficulty of getting to and from our community hospitals, delays to emergency vehicles such as ambulances and fire trucks, and the list goes on and on," Randall continued.

Among the first steps taken by the group, Randall said, should be the are at this time seemingly beyond the average grasp.

Perhaps it is not too important that such an understanding is present.

What is important is that the Krishna Sect has chosen this area for their farm.

What is important is that Hancock County accepts them at this time on equal terms, until the need for contrary action - either on their part or the county's - is proven.

Discussion with the group, including talks at the farm, obtained explanation that their purpose here is peaceful, and at least according to them, fulfills a need of society.

Recognition exists that approaches to county integration have so far not been as successful as the Krishna group would have liked, nor are they particularly happy with their isolation - not in locale but in acceptance.

It is not easy for the person who walks to the beat of a different drum.

It is not easy for a community into which this person walks.

All that could be expected from the citizens of Kandy was that they treat the alien in different clothing with respect, an effort at understanding, and a little mutual pleasure.

This now is what the devotees of Krishna ask of Hancock County.

The reflection in the lake at Kandy did not separate one from the other but, especially on a clear morning, it mirrored resident and stranger living peaceably side by side.

urging of "...our Congressional delegation to include our area in the 1978 Federal Highway Act as a Demonstration Project."

Bennett said Wednesday realization of his vision of the old L&N depot in Bay St. Louis as a tourist center and park is tied directly to the success of the Harrison County group in two ways:

"First, there is federal money available for projects like ours and it will take an organization like the proposed Relocation Authority to research and secure those funds."

"And second, establishment of commuter passenger service will be conducted on putting the railroad right-of-ways in first class condition-a primary goal of the Harrison County group."

Initial action by the Harrison County group this week includes formation of steering committees in the various political subdivisions affected, Bennett reported.

Randall also called for the appointment of a representative from each interested political subdivision to serve on a Relocation Authority steering committee which will eventually meet with the area's state legislative delegation to seek legal definition of the proposed authority.

"I suggest we appoint our respective representatives on or before Nov. 1," Randall said.

"No one political subdivision can undertake this project, Meadows said in his report.

"For instance, if the City of Pass Christian opposes the project due to the geographical location of the railroad, the project is doomed to failure," Meadows said in urging the group seek input from all interested parties and areas.

"After gaining commitment of support from all coastal municipalities and the county," Meadows continued, "a meeting should be immediately arranged with representatives from the IC and L&N Railroads to enlist their aid and support."

"Opposition from the railroads will make the project much more difficult to accomplish, so their early cooperation is essential," Meadows stated.

Bennett is confronted with the hurdle of railroad opposition to his plans for development of the depot in Bay St. Louis.

I.L. Bell, superintendent of L&N's Mobile division, in a letter to Bennett last month, said the railroad does not desire to dispose of the depot by lease or sale.

The railroad executive said his company uses the depot to conduct railroad business, but Bennett proposes continued use of the building as a depot as well as a tourist center.

"There is plenty of room in that station to house a depot as well as the other things we have proposed," Bennett said.

"There are so many things we could do with it instead of letting it sit and become more and more of an eyesore," the mayor feels.

"The building has all the basic services that would be required in a park building such as restrooms," Bennett said.

"The grounds around the depot were once the prettiest spot in Bay St. Louis," Bennett said as he pointed out how the area could once again become a showplace as well as giving the city its first park.

Bennett said inauguration of commuter service from New Orleans to points along the Gulf Coast would prove to be an energy saving device.

"Summer residents and weekenders could keep a second car at their homes here and use the trains to travel back and forth," the Mayor pointed out.

He also feels a commuter service coupled with more public-use facilities at the depot and on the beach would generate a profitable tourism in Bay St. Louis.

"There are an awful lot of people who have never ridden a train and a lot more who would gladly come over to Bay St. Louis for the day just to get out of the city," Bennett pointed out.

In the meantime, the National Railroad Passenger Corp., operators of the Amtrak lines, has released results of a cost-study on the proposed revival of the Gulf Wind service between New Orleans and Jacksonville, Fla.

The report states that capital expenditures of almost $33 million would be necessary to inaugurate the Gulf Wind service.

Bruce Pike, Amtrak vice president for government affairs, said in a letter to Representative Trent Lott that this

"total capital expense figure, when viewed in the context of Amtrak's already very strained capital budget to rebuild the present system of service, makes it most unlikely that Amtrak will be initiating any further efforts toward establishing this Jacksonville-New Orleans service."

"I must be candid and acknowledge that the $34 million figure for reinstatement makes the future pretty negative at this point," Lott said in a letter to Alton A. Kellar, president of the Hancock County board of supervisors.

Lott pointed out results of a survey he conducted showed only 38 percent of residents of Mississippi's coastal counties said they would support Gulf Wind service.

Lott said the survey showed some 15 percent would not ride the trains, and the remaining 47 percent were undecided.

"I might add also that Amtrak is no longer mandated to select one new route per year, and no additional lines have been added since this requirement was lifted," Lott continued.

"As I have indicated in the past, I think the Gulf Wind could be a valuable asset to the Coast, and I am disappointed the future is not brighter at this time," Lott added.

"However, I understand Amtrak marketing experts are required-to explore future possibilities for profit from Gulf Wind and I am hopeful their results will be more positive," the congressman concluded.

But Bennett is not discouraged by the gloom surrounding Amtrak.

"A commuter train between New Orleans and Ocean Springs would not require anything so elaborate as an Amtrak route to Jacksonville," Bennett said.

The mayor pointed out track conditions required by Amtrak's high-speed trains would not be necessary for a commuter or excursion train.

"We wouldn't need dining cars or sleepers, either," the mayor stated.

Bennett said he will continue in his efforts to secure lease or sale of the L&N depot here as well as some type of passenger service linking the Mississippi Gulf Coast with the New Orleans metropolis.

Stunt pilots...

"We are each independent performers who are well paid for our efforts in these air shows," Mabry said.

"We have all been around for a long time," Mabry said of the experience of the group. "Very, very few air show pilots are young," Mabry noted.

He said the shows, planned for 1:30 p.m. each afternoon, are different from team shows given by groups such as the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds.

"They fly 100 feet apart, while we barely get 100 feet off the ground," Mabry quipped.

The shows, scheduled to last some 2.5 hours, are billed as "high performance, low altitude aerobatics."

Other performers include Roland Weeks of Gulf Publishing Co., Gulfport, flying a sailplane; Tom Simmons, of Simmons Restaurant, Gulfport, flying a Steen Sky Bolt; and Robbie Grice of Mobile, a student, flying a Starduster II.

Also, Skip Thigpen, New Orleans construction company executive, flying a Chipmunk; Bill Sheppard, Delta Airlines pilot also of New Orleans, flying a Globe Swift.

Performing a comedy routine in a 1941 Taylorcraft will be Walter Anderson, NASA-NSTL pilot.

Also in a Pitt Special will be Scott Rogers, operator of the Laurel Airport.

Mabry described Mark Reynolds who will fly a Decathlon as an "...excellent air show pilot." Completing the roster is Frank Ryder who will pilot a brand new Decathlon 180.

Mabry said all routines and aircraft used in the shows are approved by the Federal Aviation Agency, and necessary waivers of FAA regulations have been secured.

The Diamondhead Land, Sea and Air Show begins Friday and runs through Sunday. The show will feature in addition to the aerobatics Saturday and Sunday afternoons, displays by some 25 manufacturers of airplanes, boats and recreational vehicles.

A $2.50 admission ticket is good for all three days. Children will be admitted free. For further information, call Billie Jean Barger of the Diamondhead Marina, 255-7055.

needs of the people of the parish,"
Msgr. Johnson said.

During his term of service at St. Ann's he established the St. Francis Xavier Parish in Wiggins, and the Sacred Heart Parish in Dedeaux was in process of being established when he again transferred, this time to St. Joseph's Church, Moss Point.

While there, he developed and built a new church and rectory, and again taught at OLV, Pascagoula.

He was asked to assume the pastorate of OLG, at this time, arriving here on June 30, 1969.

"Seven weeks later, Hurricane Camille gave us a blow,"

Msgr. Johnson said, thinking back on that time when hardly knowing anybody in the parish he set about to lend his support to the rescue and recovery effort.

The success of this undertaking was later acknowledged by a "Citation for Meritorious Service" given to him by the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, American Legion.

A second citation came from the OLG Parish Council.

This citation, in part, reads: "For leadership, concern, tirelessness, inspiration... for distribution of food, water, ice... while serving the spiritual needs of the flock..."

Msgr. Johnson said that working with the Brothers of the Sacred Heart (St. Stanislaus College) and the people of OLG Parish, there was established in 1971, Our Lady's Academy, a junior high school for young ladies... because we felt the need, having had St. Joseph's Academy for so many years, providing a Christian education.

"From the original concept of a Junior High School, we added a grade a year until 1975, when we graduated our first senior class of 22 students.

"Since that time we have graduated 89 young ladies, eighty percent of whom are in the process of earning college degrees.

"From a faculty of six in 1971, to a faculty of 11 in 1975, we have now also earned our double AA accreditation from the State Department of Education and membership in the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges."

"In the 1976-77 school year we began preparing St. Rose de Lima and Our Lady of the Gulf Schools to form one unit now known as the Bay St. Louis Catholic Elementary School.

"Our whole concept was to unify the system thus affording our children and all children attending, a program of studies wherein all children would have an opportunity to receive a Catholic education from kindergarten through the 12th grade." Msgr. Johnson explained.

This he elaborated is now possible with students attending Bay Catholic Elementary School, St. Clare's School, Waveland, or Waveland, or Annunciation School, Kiln, and then attending St. Stanislaus or OLA.

He explained that the current concept for Catholic schools is development of a consortium, meaning that where there are several private or parochial schools within a given territorial district, a sharing of talent and facilities takes place.

"This is the real Christian concept as taught by Jesus Christ.
"To love one another means being willing to care and share for and with each other, the retiring OLG pastor said.

He said, "Believing that I have accomplished, with the assistance and help of the good people of Our Lady of the Gulf, the good people of St. Rose de Lima, and the very dedicated Brothers of the Sacred Heart, the work I set out to do, I respectfully requested I be considered as pastor of St. Michael's Parish, Biloxi, a position which became open due to the untimely death of Rev. John Robinson."

Msgr. Johnson expressed strong belief in the spiritual growth of OLG Parish, stating that its ultimate future depended on the young people who have been exposed to the true Christian values of life, wherein they make those values top priorities in their lives.

He said Rev. Patrick Tierney, present administrator of St. Michael's Parish has been assigned as administrator of OLG until a permanent pastor is assigned - probably after January of 1978.

Msgr. Johnson said he is looking forward to his pastorate at St. Michael's as he sees an opportunity to "...carry on the work of Christ among the people of God..."

Aghool, who barely speaks above a whisper, said Bloodlots' first cousin, Fang, his wife, Vein (the former Miss Ripper), and brother-in-law M. Onster, III, were all involved in the affair.

With them, Deputy Aghool said, appear to have gone their close neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. F.L. Eshgashings, and their friends, the S.T. Alebody family.

Waveland PD reported these spooks, along with a whole covey of sneery monsters and clubfooting ghouls, have been secured inside the Old Waveland School, now the Waveland Community Center on Coleman Avenue.

The Pre-Arranging and Pre-Financing of Funerals

Those Who Survive Are Important

Before prescribing a definite kind of funeral or type of final disposition, it is always wise to consider and consult those survivors who will be most affected by the death. Grant them the opportunity to be active planning participants not just passive spectators.

This is prudent because when death comes it may have strong emotional impact upon the other members of the family. Permitting them to assist in making funeral and burial arrangements could serve as a healthy outlet for their grief and anxiety. Giving them the privilege of performing a last act of recognition, honor, and respect for the deceased will dramatize eloquently to all the reality that a life has been lived.

On the other hand, if the rites or absence of them are set forth in a pre-arrangement agreement, survivors could be denied meeting the deep psychological and emotional needs at the time of death. Inappropriate arrangements could affect adversely the sensitivities and sensibilities of those who remain. Thus, it is important to remember while the funeral is of the person who has died, it is for those who survive.

Dr. Mayfield introduces Mrs. Taylor to D'head

BY MRS. CLARENCE EVANS

Acting Publicity Chairman The Diamondhead Garden Club held its October meeting in the Sales Lodge, with Dr. Frances Mayfield presiding. In the absence of the membership chairman, Mrs. C. Canépa, Dr. Mayfield introduced a new member, Mrs. John D. Taylor.

Mrs. L.E. Grice, Jr., reported on inquiries she had made regarding the purchase of Dogwood trees, and the members agreed to buy trees to plant around the water tower. Crepe Myrtle shrubs will also be planted in the same area, with the actual planting done by the newly formed Men's Civic Improvement Auxiliary of the Garden Club. The members of this group at present are Mr. Lawrence C. Abrams, Mr. L.E. Grice, Jr., Mr. J.N. Lala, and Mr. T. Steel. At Mrs. Grice's suggestion, Club members agreed to encourage all residents of Diamondhead to plant Dogwood trees on their own property.

Discussion of the purchase of a slide projector for the Club was resolved by members agreeing to save and donate Top Value stamps for its purchase. The Garden Club annually participates by entering a float in Diamondhead's Mardi Gras festivities, which this year will be on Feb. 4, with Fantasy Land as the theme.

For the Artistic Design portion of the program, two members, Mrs. I.E. Bull, and Mrs. Harrie Devine, brought arrangements titled "Indian Summer." These were pointed out by Mrs. Augustus Elmer and Mrs. Malcolm Mundy who evaluated the designs. The Horticulture show and tell portion of the program was done by Mrs. J.N. Lala, who brought a Hindu Rope Plant, and gave many pertinent facts about the plant, including its botanical name, habitat and instructions for raising it. Luncheon at the Diamondhead Country Club followed adjournment.

Beach wreck sends one to hospital

A 45-year old Bay St. Louis man was admitted to Hancock General Hospital Saturday night for treatment of injuries suffered in a bicycle-car collision at Beach Boulevard and Ulman Avenue. Injured when his bicycle was struck from the rear was Melvin Young of 102 McDonald Lane, Bay St. Louis police reported. He was listed in "satisfactory condition Monday by the hospital. Driver of the car involved was James Varnell, 21, of 317 Gordon St., Waveland. Police said Varnell was charged with reckless driving and causing bodily injuries.

He was released on his own recognizance, according to patrolmen Alton Benoit and Albert Signorelli, investigating officers. In another weekend accident, two Texas men, driving together in separate pickup trucks, collided on US-90 at the west end of the Bay St. Louis Bridge.

According to police, the brakes on the truck driven by Philbert Thompson of Maxton, Tex., failed and the truck swerved into the second vehicle driven by Joe L. Norman of Arlington, Tex. Investigating officer Benoit said there were no injuries and no charges filed in connection with the accident.

The third accident reported by Bay St. Louis police, involved the collision of a car and motorcycle Friday night on Longfellow Road, resulting in charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving being lodged against the motorcycle driver.

Charged in the accident was Herron Turnpseed, 21, of 341 DeMontluzin, according to investigating officer Benoit.

Turnpseed refused treatment and was released from Hancock General Hospital, the officer said. Driver of the car was identified by police as Mary Alsbrook of Old Kiln Road. She was not hurt in the accident, police said.

Pass library plans show

by Gayle Cole

An exhibition of paintings by Gulf Coast artist Gayle Cole will hang in the Pass Christian Library during November. A reception opening the exhibit will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 6.

Mrs. Cole describes her work as "an abstract response to landscape, largely self-generating."

"I work within a hard-edge structure, but at the same time I have a strong feeling about using paint as paint and the interiors of those hard-edge sections are often broken freely," Mrs. Cole said about her first exhibition on the Coast.

"I'm also interested in the manner in which I use it," she noted.

Mrs. Cole is a graduate of the University of Maine. She has been a Gulf Coast resident since last December.

Gulfview Bulldogs capture Homecoming vs. BJHS, 12-6

By Edgar Perez

Karen Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ladner of Ansley, was crowned Gulfview 1977 Homecoming Queen, Tuesday, in halftime festivities during the game that night between Bay Junior High School and the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs took the game 12-6 in overtime, following four periods of heads-up ball which saw both sides score following the hard-hitting action.

During the presentation of the court, Miss Ladner was attended by the eighth grade maid, Miss Deneen Curet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Curet; seventh grade maid, Miss Dianne Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carr; sixth grade maid, Miss Denise Aimes; fifth grade maid, Miss Melissa Aimes, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Aimes; flower girl, Miss Penny Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ladner; crown bearer, Chad Fricke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fricke; and the 1976 Queen Miss Lisa Carr.

Gulfview Junior High currently boasts a new school record holder in the person of Donald Carver who has amassed a total of 1,340 yards rushing in seven games played this year.

In addition to being a defensive standout in last week's homecoming victory against Bay Junior High, Carver gained 104 yards rushing and scored a 39-yard average with five punts.

Other defensive standouts in the hard-fought contest for a homecoming victory—finally settled in an overtime session—were Carlo Busch, Ronnie Surrent and Nelson Croasdale.

Gulfview's seventh and eighth grade gridders won the overtime toss for first try from the opponents ten yard line with four plays to score.

On the third overtime play, Gulfview's Donald Carver went in to pay dirt from the seven yardline with a good block by Lafayette Greer.

The extra point try was no good, and Gulfview's 12-6 lead at that point was still good after Bay Junior High found itself at the 17 yard line after four overtime plays.

There was no score in the regulation first half of the defensive contest.

Bay High's only score came in the third quarter when David Gillum ran in from the 13 out of a shotgun formation with an unbalanced line.

Ronnie Surrent posted Gulfview's only regulation score with a quarterback keeper from the 6 in the fourth quarter.

Neither team was successful in its extra point try.

After the touchdown effort in the fourth quarter, Gulfview recovered its own on-side kick at the 50 yard line with one minute to play.

But Van Fayard of Bay High intercepted a long Gulfview pass at the Bay High 20. Fayard made a valiant try in the closing moments when he ran the interception back to the Gulfview 25.

The clock ran out on Bay High and the final regulation score stood at 6-6.

Gulfview coach Curtis Thaxton said the teams had agreed prior to the start of the game to play-off in the event of a tie.

Gulfview Junior High plays Pearl River Central today, Thursday, at 7 p.m. at Gulfview.

In other action last week, Waveland Elementary-fifth and sixth graders—downed Gulfview Elementary in an 8-6 squeaker for the Hancock County Elementary School Conference championship.

The passing and rushing efforts of Allen James and Richard Goetz were instrumental in posting Waveland's only touchdown of the contest.

The margin of victory for Waveland came from the two-point conversion credited to Earl Terry.

Richard Surrent posted Gulfview's score in the third quarter on a quarterback keeper from the two. The extra point try was no good. Waveland's conference championship victory leaves the school with a 5-0-1 record for the season.

Gulfview carries a 4-1-2 record into its contest today, Thursday, with Charles B. Murphy Elementary at 5 p.m. on Gulfview's Lakeshore campus.

Share-a-turkey program '77 to begin on Oct. 30

Thanksgiving dinner eaten in a chow hall can be a lonely experience.

Because of this and the fact that many families will find themselves eating turkey until Christmas, the Center Chaplain's Office of Keeler is sponsoring the second annual "share-a-turkey" program.

This program seeks to match up single airmen to local military and civilian homes for the Thanksgiving meal. Beginning, Sunday, Oct. 30, hosts and guests may sign up in squadron orderly rooms or by phoning Chapel Number Three.

Hosts will be asked to provide transportation to and from their homes. It will be up to the guests to make the initial contact with the hosts. Both parties will be matched on a first-come, first-served basis.

The last day to sign up will be Nov. 16. For further information and any questions, please contact Chaplain Sharon Freeto or Senior Airman Edward Metzler, Chapter Number Three, 377-4620.

Hawks seek post season bowl invite Monday, Coach Irvin Favre stated, "I hope that the Hancock North Central football team will be fortunate enough to get a post season invite, our football program has come a long way during the past three years, I am real happy." The Hawks won their seventh victory of the season by defeating Pine, La. 33-6 before an overflow crowd Friday night.

The Hawks were able to break a school record for the number of victories by a football team during a season. The Hawks twice before had won six games, the homecoming victory was their seventh victory of the season with no defeats.

Tomorrow night the Hawks journey to Biloxi to do battle with the Notre Dame Rebels. Coach Favre said this about Notre Dame, "They are a big team, but their record is not very good."

"They compare to Lumberton in size."

North Central's victory last Friday was from a team effort, with first string quarterback Vincent Adams having a hot hand in the first half completing nine of ten passes. In the second half Favre played his sophomores and freshmen.

To help the Hawks gather even ran out of standing room space on the home teams side of the stadium.

Coach Favre stated, "We have a full football program at HNC, that includes elementary, junior high and senior high, and I have some very good coaches assisting me."

Lott sponsors

Seashore Park funding bill

Congressman Trent Lott, has cosponsored legislation to pump an additional $6.4 million into development of the Gulf Islands National Seashore Park in Mississippi and Florida.

Lott said he endorsed the legislation as it would provide additional funds for continued improvements at the popular Gulf Islands facilities. He said the funds represent an increase in total funding authorization.

"The increase from $17,774,000 to $24,224,000 is much-needed and will allow for the completion of many projects at the Gulf Islands National Seashore Park," Lott said. The congressman noted the bill is soon due before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Harvill outdoors

By Donald Harvill

The salt water fishing is still relatively good. Specks are being caught in fair numbers in most of the local waters, a few red fish have been caught but not in any large numbers. The local salt water fishing from now on will mostly be comprised of specks, reds, and flounders along with white trout and croakers.

The fresh water fishing is definitely picking up, especially as far as bass are concerned, if the bass fishing is improving I see no reason why the bream fishing shouldn't be improving also.

Squirrel season opens this Sat., Oct. 29. I'm sure a heap of local hunters will begin hitting the woods in quest of the little bushy-tailed tree rats. According to what I've heard, the Gray Squirrel is supposed to be the most popular game animal in the state. I can very well understand why. They not only provide good sport but they just happen to be some of the tastiest little critters that you can sink your teeth into.

The first segment of the archery season closes this Sun., Oct. 30, and I haven't heard of any one who has collected his venison. Taking a deer with a gun is hard enough but the odds against a bow hunter are of the greatest magnitude.

Dr. Calvert, Phillip Malley and company returned last week from a mule deer hunting trip in Colorado. Out of a party of seven, five bucks were collected.

Other local hunters that made the trip to Colorado were Dave Harvill and James Harvill, Jr., out of the two one buck was tagged, it was taken by Dave. They also sampled some Colorado fishing and both managed to snag a few rainbow trout out of one of the clear Colorado lakes. Not all of the hunters that went to Colorado got their meat, but they still had a good time.

BAY ST. LOUIS - The fish have been biting in Grand Pass, Three Mile Pass, Nine Mile Pass and around Heron Bay and the mouth of Redfish Bayou. Harry Garber, Sam

Scafid and their wives along with Jessie Breland made a nice catch of big specks and reds at Mitchel Island last Thursday. Ray Kidd and company caught approximately 50 specks last Wednesday at Half Moon. Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Smith of the Kiln caught some beautiful specks trolling in the Jourdan River. They say that the specks are really starting to move into the river. The employees of the Hancock Bank made a trip to the Chandelers, they said that they all had a good time and caught a nice mess of fish. We have about everything for the sportsman needs. (Mr. Carl Gustafson Sr., Sportsmens Paradise).

BAYOU CADDY - We had good fishing Sat. A lot of boats went out to the Louisiana marshes and they caught a lot of specks and red. Claude Dukes caught 66 specks at Three Mile Bayou. Willie Blackwell from Bogaloussa caught six nice red fish and a few specks at Nine Mile Bayou. Mr. Cameron from Hattiesburg caught some nice specks at Nine Mile Bayou. Mr. Kenneth Rice, owner of Rice's Potato Chips, from Hattiesburg and nine more people caught three boxes of nice trout and a few reds. It was too windy Sunday and Monday for fishing. We need a good west wind for good fishing. The fish are wanting to bite, we just need the right conditions. (Mr. Bordage, Bordage Bros. Marina)

PEARLINGTON - We had good bass fishing Sat. A lot of people caught some real nice bass at Waste House Bayou. Jack Patterson from Long Beach caught his limit of real nice bass. Cooler water made the bass fishing better. The water has been real clear. Because of the windy weather the water was rough and high Sunday and Monday. As soon as the weather clears up again the water and the fishing should get real good again. (Mr. Roy Baxter, Pearl River Marina).

ANSLEY - Over the weekend a group of people from Jackson caught 20 to 25 nice flounders. They enjoyed a good fish fry Saturday night.

A couple from Poplarville caught a 22 and a 24 pound drum. One man caught a 10 lb. red fish. A lot of boats went out Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and they caught a lot of nice specks. We have live bait and rental skiffs and we open at 5:30 a.m. (Mrs. Toxie Hall, LaFrances Fishing Camp).

KILN - Hubert Bilbo and Junior Necaise from Kiln caught 29 big specks in the river. Three men from Jackson caught 75 white trout in the north part of Jourdan River. One man caught a 6 1/2 lb. bass. Bass fishing is getting real good. I don't think the wind and rain upset the water too much, fishing should

Clinton Homecoming to please Choctaws

Mississippi College alumni and former students from Hancock County are reminded that "Homecoming 1977" activities are scheduled on the campus for Saturday Nov. 5, with registration beginning at 9 a.m. in the foyer of the B.C. Rogers Student Center.

"We want to be sure our friends and alumni in Hancock County and surrounds mark this date on their calendars," said Bernard Blackwell, director of alumni affairs. "I will appeal to all of our Choctaws."

Homecoming activities will include various class reunions, a parade, arts and craft exhibit, talent show, the annual Alumni Association meeting, announcement of the "Alumnus of the Year" and "Order of the Golden Arrow" awards, the Alumni Banquet, meeting of the Sports Hall of Fame committee and the Homecoming football game.

The Mississippi College Choctaws will meet Troy State University at 7:30 p.m. on Robinson Field. The homecoming queen will be crowned during halftime ceremonies.

Tickets for the Alumni Banquet may be secured by writing to the Alumni Office of the college.

MSU entertains Alabama Saturday

Facing its toughest challenge of the season, Mississippi State host second-ranked Alabama Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Mississippi Memorial Stadium at Jackson, Miss.

Not only is the Tide 6-1 and riding the crest of a five-game winning streak, but the Tuscaloosa-based eleven also paces the Southeastern Conference with a 3-0 mark. Saturday's battle before a sellout audience of 46,000 should be an interesting affair.

The Bulldogs have regained the services of their leading rusher through the first four games, sophomore halfback James Jones of Vicksburg. In Saturday's 14-7 setback to Southern Mississippi Jones carried nine times for 51 yards.

That performance helped keep the 186-pound left halfback above an average of seven yards per carry, and it is hoped that his presence will bring more consistency to the MSU Wishbone offense.

On the other side of the oval, State's defense enjoyed its best showing of the year by holding the Golden Eagles, who finished 3-0 against SEC opponents this fall, to 221 yards of total offense.

Brotherhood rally planned for Jackson

A statewide Brotherhood Rally is set for Monday, Nov. 14, at Jackson's Broadmoor Baptist Church.

The rally will kick off with a banquet at 5:30 p.m. featuring Armando Silverio, a humorist from St. Augustine, Fla., and the Morrison Heights Baptist Church Ladies' Washboard Band, which hails from Clinton.

Silverio is a Southern Baptist missionary to Italians. Speakers for the conference, which begins at 7:30 that evening, include Jimmy Allen, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, Bill Clemmons, consultant for the Southern Baptist Brotherhood Commission, and Gene Hendrix, minister of education for First Baptist Church, Clinton.

Theme of the rally is "Focus on Ministry." This is in connection with a "Bold Challenge" emphasis of the state Brotherhood Department which is encouraging that "every church adopt at least one mission ministry project in 1978," and "every association adopt at least one out-of-state mission ministry project in 1978."

Wildcats tangle with Bears in Summit

Pearl River College's Wildcats came from behind Thursday night to take a hard earned 27-14 win over the Holmes Bulldogs.

It was the second week in a row that the Wildcats have fought back in the fourth and final quarter to take wins. The victory put the defending state champions with a 5-3 overall record, and assured the Cats of not having a losing season. Two games remain on the Pearl River schedule, including the Southwest Bears this Thursday at Summit, and the Co-Lin Wolves at home on Saturday, Nov. 5.

Pearl River's starting two fullback, Memphis McAbee and Bill Smith missed last week's game and are doubtful this Thursday. But that is only the beginning of Arban's woes. Starting signal caller Jeff Davis is out with a sprained knee; center Tommy Longo has a messed up shoulder; big offensive tackle Derrick Banks has a sprained shoulder; Jeff January, the third string fullback, now playing first team, has a bruised thigh; and tackles Ray McNair and Kevin Arvin have nagging injuries. And there are other physical problems.

Last week at Holmes J. C. Arban played all 43 players he is allowed to carry on ball trips. It wasn't because he was so far ahead. Instead it was a necessity, because so many of the players were hurt.

"We had some people playing positions they were not use to," Arban commented, "but it was necessary."

Southwest beat the East Central Warriors 22-10 last Saturday night and according to Arban, the Wildcats will have their hands full. Anthony Williams, a speedy running back, will pose the biggest problem for the Wildcats.

"Williams is good," Arban said, "we have to stop him to stay in the game." Defensively Arban believes the Bear unit is the strongest in the league. "They'll knock your pants off," Arban said, "they are tough."

Pearl River chances will depend on getting points early in the contest, a problem the Cats have not had recently. Game time is 7:30 p.m. in Summit. Summit is about seven miles northeast of McComb.

The Sundance Kid's real name was Harry Longbough.

Baptists plan Bold Mission Day, to hear President Carter speak

Hancock County Baptists will be among those involved in BOLD MISSION DAY at William Carey College, Hattiesburg, on November 11. "All folk from the pulpit to the pew," commented a spokesman for the event, "will be interested in the day's information, explorational, and inspirational program."

A filmed presentation by the President of the United States will be a part of the 7 p.m. Bold Mission Rally. This is the same film clip that was used at Kansas City in June at the Southern Baptist Convention in which Jimmy Carter challenged Baptists to recruit 5000 volunteer missionaries during the next five years. "He speaks as a fellow Southern Baptist," said Owen Cooper, moderator for BOLD MISSION DAY, "not as President of the United States."

The 2:30 p.m. session will be a denominational dialogue with leading representatives of all the major boards and agencies of the convention. There will be a period of questions and answers as well as reports on the latest developments in the new Mission Service Corps.

A 5 p.m. dutch supper will be served all campus guests and will be prepared by Morrison's Food Service in the school dining hall.

"We are expecting churches throughout South Mississippi to bring bus loads and car loads of staff and lay Christians who are interested in missions," continued Owen Cooper. "This is an important day in the life of each Baptist in our area, and we urge the cooperation of all churches."
